Musical Instruments: answers and facts

Each fact below is a sentence we wrote from the Wikipedia page named under it. All pages were read on 26 September 2026.

The drawings are drawn in code by ARLing, line by line, with no photographs and no AI generated images.

The coloured drawings show one way to colour them; any colours are fine.

Violin

Violin bow hair traditionally comes from the tail of a grey male horse.

Guitar

A guitar typically has six or twelve strings; the English word comes from the Spanish guitarra.

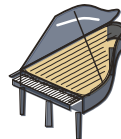

en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Guitar

Harp

Harps date back at least to 3000 BCE, and the harp has been a symbol of Ireland for centuries.

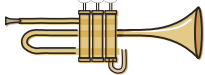

en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Harp

Piano

A modern piano has 88 keys; pressing one makes a felt-coated hammer strike the strings.

en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Piano

Trumpet

Some of the earliest trumpets are the bronze and silver ones found in Tutankhamun's grave in Egypt.

en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Trumpet

Flute

A flute made from a vulture wing bone, found in a cave in Germany, is at least 35,000 years old.

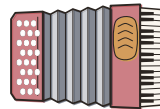

en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Flute

Drum

Drums made with alligator skins, from between 5500 and 2350 BC, have been found in China.

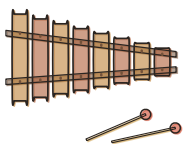

en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Drum

Accordion

Squeezing or pulling the bellows sends air across strips of brass or steel called reeds.

en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Accordion

Xylophone

Xylophone comes from the Greek words for wood and sound; its wooden bars are struck with mallets.

en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Xylophone

Saxophone

Adolphe Sax patented the saxophone in 1846; it is usually made of brass but uses a reed.
